Chaplaincy of St George Malaga

We aspire to be the spiritual, cultural, and social centre of English speaking Malaga.

"The people at the church have been very warm and welcoming... An inclusive environment, welcoming people who'd like a place for contemplation, spiritual connection and community: it's not only for Brits but people from all over the world. It is LGBTQ+ friendly, and a place where everyone feels welcome."

For those living inland, our sister congregation in Salinas (Archidona) holds regular services of Holy Eucharist - QR code for details:

A message from the Chaplain, Father Louis Darrant

"At what point does the wandering eye of the traveller become the focussed eye of the pilgrim? However you describe yourself, St George's is a place to turn to for all who seek sanctuary on the pilgrimage of life. The church has a valuable heritage as the first Anglican Church on the Spanish peninsula and today is a growing community of faith. Here you will find not a finished group of saints, but a diverse company of people exploring with good humour the gift of faith in Jesus Christ for contemporary times. Whether you are visiting on your travels or looking for a spiritual home to put down some roots you will find a welcome here."

Our congregations also hold musical, artistic and social events, serving the whole Malaga community.

Notable are our annual Jazz Evenings and other outdoor concerts, our series Music at St George's and our annual Fayre.

St. George's Anglican Chaplaincy ministers to the people of Malaga, the surrounding area and province.

We are here for YOU. Whoever you are; wherever you come from; whatever your faith, our beautiful church set in the historical English Cemetery is here for you as a place of refuge where you can pray, meditate, seek spiritual guidance, or enjoy some conversation, hospitality and fellowship in our community.

Services of Holy Eucharist are held in English every Sunday at 11.30 AM and are followed by an informal gathering where you can enjoy a glass of wine and meet our congregation members and other English-speaking visitors from around the world.
